G. Compensation Committee.

The committee did not meet.
H. Facilities Resource Committee.

- Space is needed and storage space is a premium. The Facilities Resource Committee is working with Don Hardesty from Anthropology to expand their space by combining new space with the space they have now into one location.
- The committee discussed the new Wolf Walk. This is a pre game experience for the Nevada Wolf Pack. Wolf paws will be stenciled on the sidewalk around Lawlor Events Center leading up to the stadium. Building and Grounds will work with the Athletic Department to do the stenciling sometime during the summer.
- The university and Luce and Son are still waiting for their third appraisal to come back before they meet to discuss the purchase of the building. The bids are currently more than a million or more apart. A third bid was requested.

Joe Goodnight from USAC was another suggestion.

SEC Flag
Bill Oberding recommended a new flag be purchased. Military Science may be a possible resource.

There is a possibility of having the retreat at an earlier date in August (possibly the second Tuesday of the month instead of the third Tuesday during the normal meeting time). New committee member letters should go out by June. This will allow new members to be voted in so they can attend the retreat. The members of the various sub-committees can stand up and give information about their committees so the new members know what they are signing up for.

Fundraising
Theresa Moser asked about the cookbook. Debbie Keck said recipes are still needed but that the cookbook has been temporarily tabled.

Open House
Theresa Moser mentioned that Krispy Kreme is on the vendor list. Can they be invited to the Open House to let people know they are available for fundraisers?

Donna Brown said the mock emergencies on campus were not well attended, even though there was a lot of literature put out ahead of time.
