Founded in 1874, the University of Nevada, Reno is a mid-sized public institution with more than 145 degree programs offered at the undergraduate and graduate levels. From expertise in Earth Sciences to demonstrated success in Journalism, Nevada degrees open the door to a world of exceptional opportunities. Nevada’s programs in Clinical Psychology, Environmental Engineering, Earth Science, Civil Engineering, and Speech Pathology are ranked in the top 100 “best schools” in U.S. News & World Report. Nevada’s research programs in Agriculture, Environmental Sciences, Physics, and Biology are ranked in the top 100 of the National Science Foundation’s 400 best programs. The University is considered a top-tier institution, which puts it among the best 200 national universities in the United States, and is also a top 100 public university. For other points of Nevada pride, go to unr.edu/pride.

The University of Nevada, Reno is accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities, plus 20 professionally accredited programs.

The University has on-campus housing available with a comprehensive meal plan, and there are many opportunities for students to engage in enrichment experiences. Regardless of the field of study, students report that they are able to connect with faculty and feel that the campus community offers a friendly, safe, supportive, and caring atmosphere.

Why should international students select our school?

• Strong academic reputation: Nevada is ranked as Tier I among “America’s Best National Universities” by U.S. News & World Report.
• Hands-on research: PhD professors regularly teach undergraduate students and invite them to research labs or internships.
• Great place to live: Livability.com ranked Reno in its “Top 100 Best Places to Live” in the United States with unlimited outdoor activities, a thriving arts scene, and affordable housing options.
• Affordable: Nevada offers an affordable education at a quality university.

Scholarship requirements

Nevada provides high-quality education at a competitive price with a variety of funding opportunities. Undergraduate scholarships and graduate assistantships (teaching or research) are merit-based.

• New/Transfer Student Scholarships and International Awards are offered to full-time international undergraduate students in F-1 or J-1 status from the Office of International Students and Scholars (unr.edu/oiss).
• Graduate assistantships are valued at over $34,300 and include a monthly stipend of $1,700, a per-credit grant-in-aid, health insurance, and in-state resident status for tuition purposes.

Contact Info

The NEVADA campus is located in the beautiful mountainous city of RENO, with a population of 450,000 people. The Reno/Tahoe International airport is just under 15 minutes from campus, allowing students from all over the world the ability to travel with ease. Just 40 minutes from Lake Tahoe and a four-hour drive from San Francisco, Reno is ideally located for enjoying and exploring the West.

University of Nevada, Reno

ATTENTION INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

International students who begin studies in the fall and spring semesters.

Legend:

– International students are included in the number of students listed above.

International Scholarships

Nevada providesscholarships specifically designed for international students. Please visit unr.edu/oiss for a comprehensive list of scholarships available.

International Tuition

Tuition for international students is charged at the same rate as nonresident tuition.

University of Nevada, Reno

2100 N. Virginia Street, Reno, NV 89557 USA PHONE +1-775-784-1100 FAX +1-775-327-5845 WEBSITE unr.edu E-MAIL asknevada@unr.edu

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT SERVICES:
The Office of International Students and Scholars offers support for applications, arrival, orientation, cultural activities, advising, housing, and financing a Nevada education. The Intensive English Language Center provides conditional admission at the undergraduate level and for select graduate programs. Instruction is available from beginning to advanced levels.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT BUDGET:
The 2017-2018 amount required to demonstrate availability of funds for an F-20 Certificate of Eligibility is $34,300, including tuition and fees of $20,000/year.

FINANCIAL AID: Some merit-based awards are available to international students who begin studies in the fall and spring semesters.

TEST SCORE REQUIREMENTS: SAT or ACT scores are only required for freshman scholarship consideration and must be submitted directly from the testing agency. Nevada considers SAT combined Math and Critical Reading scores only, TOEFL (61 iBT) or IELTS 6 are required to determine English proficiency unless from a school teaching predominantly in English. Students with low English scores or no scores can still be conditionally admitted to the University but will be required to participate in the Nevada Intensive English Language program.

APPLICATION DEADLINES AND FEES: The fall application and credential priority date is February 1. Late applications are accepted until April 7. There is a $95 application fee.