CRIME PREVENTION FOR RESIDENTS
• Theft is usually a crime of opportunity, and one that is preventable. Thefts are most often committed when your property is left unattended or unsecured.
• More important than any item of property is your personal safety. The chances of physical attack can be greatly reduced by taking simple precautions such as using the Campus Escort Service after hours and by being aware of your surroundings and alert when walking around the campus.

THINGS TO DO:
• Keep your door locked even when you’re leaving for “just a moment.”
• Call the University Police Department to report suspicious persons.
• Engrave your property with your name, or other unique identification number.
• Use this handout to record the make, model, and serial number of valuables and keep the records in a safe place. Should you have property stolen, this information will help provide the greatest chance of catching the thief and getting your property returned.
• Report lost room keys or PASS cards to housing staff immediately.
• Before you bring valuable items to the campus, make sure that they are insured against theft. Some items may be covered on a parent’s homeowner’s policy, other items would need to be covered under a separate insurance policy - these can be purchased from a variety of sources. In either case, having valuable item insured can reduce the financial impact should they be stolen.

DO NOT:
• Allow strangers or hold large gatherings in your residence. It is easy for someone to steal small items without being noticed.
• Prop open exterior building doors or violate guest check-in procedures. You are jeopardizing other’s safety, as well as your own.
• Bring unnecessary valuables, particularly small items of value to the campus. Leave them at home if it is not necessary to have them in your campus residence.
