Bringing some of the world's finest performers to the University's Nightingale Concert Hall

R. Carlos Nakai with William Eaton and Will Clipman

Thursday, Sept. 15, 2016 / 7:30 p.m.

Over the past three decades, Nakai has melded his classical training with his expertise on the cedar flute to form a complex, sophisticated sound that covers the spectrum of musical genres: from devotional meditations to jazz ensembles to full symphonic works. Nakai has written and performed scores for film and television, including selections for the National Park Service, Fox Television, the Discovery Channel, IMAX, the National Geographic Society and many commercial productions. Performing with Nakai is luthier and guitarist William Eaton and percussionist Will Clipman. www.rcarlosnakai.com

Julie Fowlis: Music of the Scottish Isles

Thursday, Oct. 13, 2016 / 7:30 p.m.

Julie Fowlis is an award-winning Gaelic singer with a career spanning 10 years and four studio albums. Her crystalline vocals have enchanted audiences around the world. An artist with a curiosity to explore other traditions and a natural ability to cross genres, Fowlis has collaborated, recorded and performed with artists such as Grammy Award-winning James Taylor and Mary Chapin Carpenter. She performed the theme song to Brave, the animated Disney Pixar film that won Golden Globe and BAFTA awards. www.juliefowlis.com

BodyVox + Amphion String Quartet: Cosmosis

Thursday, Nov. 3, 2016 / 7:30 p.m.

BodyVox and the Amphion String Quartet will unite in Cosmosis, a marriage of dance and live chamber music. Hailed by the New York Times for its "precision, assertiveness and vigor," the Amphion String Quartet will lend its passionate performance of music by Elliott Smith, Samuel Barber and Edgar Meyer to a sweeping work of dance theater by BodyVox Artistic Directors Jamey Hampton and Ashley Roland. Don't miss this collaboration pairing BodyVox's signature blend of dance, theater and film with an outstanding ensemble of musicians. www.bodyvox.com

Berlin Philharmonic Wind Quintet

Thursday, Feb. 16, 2017 / 7:30 p.m.

The Berlin Philharmonic Wind Quintet (Philharmonisches Bläserquintett Berlin) was founded in 1988 during the era of Herbert von Karajan, the first permanently established wind quintet in the famous orchestra's rich tradition of chamber music. The quintet continues to impress audiences worldwide with its range of expression, tonal spectrum and conceptual unity. In recent years, the members have intensified their teaching and coaching roles with youth through chamber music workshops and instrumental instruction in many countries. www.windquintet.com

Anoushka Shankar

Thursday, March 30, 2017 / 7:30 p.m.

Sitar player and composer Anoushka Shankar is a singular figure in the Indian classical and progressive world music scenes. Her dynamic and spiritual musicality has garnered accolades, including five Grammy Award nominations. As a composer, Shankar has encouraged cross-cultural dialogue while demonstrating the versatility of the sitar across musical genres. As a result, she has created a body of work with a roster of artists such as Sting, M.I.A., Herbie Hancock, Pepe Habichuela, Karsh Kale, Rodrigo y Gabriela and Joshua Bell. www.anoushakashankar.com

While the Performing Arts Series prides itself in bringing some of the finest performers in the world to the University of Nevada, Reno each season, occasionally an unforeseen occurrence calls for an artist to cancel a performance. If a cancellation requires us to schedule another performer, the series will always seek to substitute a comparable artist with similar credentials and performance standards within a related genre.
