Jim Rogers
Former Nevada System of Higher Education Chancellor Jim Rogers, 75, passed away June 14, 2013. In 2004, Rogers was appointed by the NSHE Board of Regents to serve as interim chancellor. A year later, he was appointed as NSHE’s ninth chancellor and served through 2009. Rogers was the founder and owner of Sunbelt Communications Company, which owns 14 TV stations in five Western states. Through Sunbelt, Rogers gave generously to the Rogers-Wiener Large-Scale Structures Laboratory and the Louis Wiener Jr. Memorial Journalism Scholarship. In 2010, Rogers was named Distinguished Nevadan by the NSHE Board of Regents.
