The Davidson Institute for Talent Development (DITD) is a national nonprofit organization headquartered in Reno serving families of profoundly gifted young people across the country. Student(s) interning with us will become familiar with our programs and services, concentrating specifically in areas of family services, specialized education, summer programs, and non-profit operations.

We do not work face-to-face with families; rather our communication is done primarily through phone and email correspondence from a quiet office setting. We work on behalf of children and teens ages 5 to 18, but most of what we do involves communication with parents rather than with children themselves.

Internship may be paid upon completion of their internship hours and schedules can be flexible within a traditional workweek; no night or weekend hours are available. This placement doubles as a career opportunity. Students who successfully complete the internship and are found to be a good match for our organization will very likely be considered for a full-time position pending graduation. We offer competitive wages, excellent benefits and growth opportunities. Students interested in the Davidson Institute’s mission and looking for a career in the field of non-profit service and/or education are encouraged to apply.

How will student obtain this internship?

If a student is interested in interning with DITD, please directly call or email the POC to set up an interview. A resume will be required for interview consideration. The interview will take place on-site at our office.

Please note that before beginning an internship with us, student(s) will need to complete all pre-hiring criteria including drug screening, fingerprinting and a background check. The expenses for these screenings will be the responsibility of DITD (not the student). However, students looking for placement at our site MUST complete these steps prior to beginning internship hours. Therefore, interviewing early-on in the search process is strongly encouraged.

Please feel free to contact the POC with any questions regarding the interview or internship process.
