CANDIDATE PROFESSIONAL BEHAVIORS AND DISPOSITIONS
Secondary Education Teacher Licensure - College of Education, University of Nevada, Reno

All teachers are expected to adhere to a professional code of conduct. How teachers interact with children, parents, and their professional colleagues is as important as their knowledge of content and teaching strategies. The College of Education at the University of Nevada, Reno has adopted a set of professional behaviors or dispositions that we feel are essential for prospective teachers. These dispositions (see attached forms) apply to the university setting, courses, practicum experiences, and the supervised internship and are assessed at different points during the teacher education program. Failure to demonstrate one or more of the dispositions may lead to an individualized plan for improvement and, in extreme cases, could lead to removal from the teacher preparation program. The list of dispositions is not exhaustive. Depending on the situation, there could be other dispositions and professional behaviors that might be relevant to becoming a professional educator that do not appear on the list, but which could be considered in an evaluation of overall readiness to become a teacher. Application packets for teacher education programs in the College of Education will contain a description of the Professional Behaviors and Dispositions.

Program applicants will be asked to sign the form to acknowledge their understanding of the Professional Behaviors and Dispositions. Dispositions Form 1 is used for this expectation.

Each teacher education candidate will be assessed at the following points in their programs:

1. Program Assessment. Each candidate will be assessed in at least once during the program prior to internship. Program faculty may choose to use a practicum course and have the teacher complete the assessment as well. Dispositions Form 3 is used for this assessment.

2. Portfolio. Each candidate should complete the self-assessment of dispositions (Dispositions Form 2). In addition, the candidate should discuss their disposition and professional behaviors as part of the essay in the portfolio.

3. Internship. During the internship, the lead teacher, the university supervisor, and the intern will complete the assessment. These assessments will be included in the internship. (Lead teachers and supervisors use Form 3 and candidates use Form 2.) At each of these assessment points, the candidate will be given a copy of the assessment.

If any of the scheduled assessments of professional behaviors and dispositions raise significant concerns about the candidate, a Referral for Professional Behaviors and Dispositions form should be completed (see Dispositions Form 4). In addition, faculty may complete a referral form at any time during the program to raise a concern about a student’s professional behavior or dispositions. Examples of behaviors that might result in a referral would be a candidate’s inability to work with others in a university class, university classroom behaviors that are a disruption and are not resolved even after intervention by the course instructor, or inappropriate behavior at a practicum or internship site.

The completed Referral for Professional Behaviors and Dispositions will be forwarded to the chair of the department in which the candidate is enrolled. Upon receipt of a referral form, the department chair will make the determination on how to proceed. The chair will have flexibility in determining how to proceed depending on the severity of the concern and where the candidate is in the program. If multiple referrals or an initial referral raises significant concerns, the chair will form a faculty committee of at least three faculty members. Typically, the committee will consist of at least two faculty members who have worked with the candidate (typically from the program) and one faculty member who has not worked with the candidate (typically from outside program). The faculty member making the referral may not be a member of the committee. The committee will review the referral materials, meet with the candidate and faculty member(s) making the referral, and make a recommendation on the candidate continuing in the program. The recommendation must be reviewed and approved by both the program and the department chair. The candidate may appeal the decision to the Teacher Education Coordinating Committee (contact person is the Associate Dean of the College of Education). The decision of the Coordinating Committee will be final.

It should be noted that the assessment of dispositions and professional behavior is a separate process from the university disciplinary action due to violations of the university code of student conduct (see Student Conduct Information section in the university catalog or the Student Judicial Services website at www.unr.edu/stsv/sjmas). The assessment of dispositions and any decisions based on these assessments are program and professional judgments by faculty members to determine the candidate’s capability to become an educator. If a candidate is accused of a violation of the code of student conduct such as academic dishonesty, the university process for academic dishonesty will be followed. The results of disciplinary action may be considered as part of a referral for dispositions and professional behaviors, but may not be the sole consideration. A candidate may be referred for unprofessional behavior that is not part of the university student code.

Secondary Education Essay:

In a concise and thoughtful 3-5 page essay (double-space, 12 pitch font), describe your philosophy of education –
What is the purpose of public education and how are the complex issues facing secondary teachers going to affect you as a teacher? Based on your experiences with adolescents, what qualities do you bring to the profession that will help you to meet the challenges of teaching today’s youth? (Rubric attached)

Essays will be evaluated on quality of thinking exhibited by content and writing style. Preference will be given to applicants with the highest overall qualifications, including the quality of thinking, evident in the essay.

Letters of Recommendation

Each applicant must submit two (2) letters of recommendation. Letters may be solicited from practicum teachers or an individual who has first-hand knowledge of the applicant’s work with children or adolescents, preferably in a school or other instructional setting. If absolutely necessary, letters may also be solicited from a former school teacher, a current or former employee of a public or private school, a current or former college instructor, a current or former employer, or from other adults who have knowledge of the applicant’s character, experience with children, and/or potential as a future teacher. Do not request letters from relatives.

Letters of Recommendation should be addressed to the Application Review Committee. Request that the writer explain his/her qualifications for making such a recommendation and his/her relationship to you (professor, teacher, employer, etc.). The letter must be on official letter head, signed with the original signature (in pen, not electronic) and sealed. Letters are to be submitted (unopened) with your application packet.

Preparing for the Praxis CORE tests

These tests are similar to the ACT but are testing for college-level skills rather than high school level. We advise you to complete your core English and math courses first, then, practice specifically for the test using the study materials available on the appropriate website and in the College of Education Learning Resource Center (LRC) in WRB 1021.

Register for the CORE ACADEMIC SKILLS: Combined Test online at:

- Praxis CORE Online Test
- CBEST Online Test

Then call for an appointment to take the tests, which are available by computer at local testing centers:

- Praxis CORE – Prometric Test Center
  5250 Neil Rd Ste 110, 826-4361
- CBEST – Truckee Meadows Community College
  Meadowood Center, 5270 Neil Rd, 829-9004
  http://www.tmcc.edu/wdce/

Students are encouraged to take the test as early as possible (scores do not expire) to confirm that they meet the admission requirements and to avoid being denied program acceptance due to late return of scores. It takes 2-4 weeks for scores to be returned following testing.
