Sound Art: New You by Name

Clint Sleeper, We are Singing As Softly as We are Able (Three Piece Band) 2015, video and installation

The most recent in a series of deep listening exercises, this performance considers characteristics of pop music, media, and art history. A playful sound collage grows out of looped instruments and the cathartic act of throwing dirt from Black Mountain College.

Clint Sleeper is a media artist, performer, and educator working in the space that connects technology, history, and critique of high and low tech obsessions. Sleeper collaborates with five. We need to join hands to solve,