Dissertations

---

1 Updated June 2018, at which time there were 16 PhD and 153 MJS graduates (15 of those MJS degrees were in the Juvenile and Family Court track). An “” associated with a title denotes Juvenile and Family Court Track theses. Most theses/dissertations are available for review via the University of Nevada, Reno or by request from the JSP Program Officer.

Thesis

Andrus, Beth M. WA (2016) “The Vanishing Commercial Trial in King County Superior Court and the Role Private Arbitration May Play” (non-published thesis, available through the University of Nevada, Reno Library).

Daye, Courtney D., JAM (2007) “An Analysis of the Sex Distribution of Jurors in Sexual Offenses Cases in Jamaica to Determine if this Factor have any Effect on Their Verdict” (non-published thesis, available through the University of Nevada, Reno Library).

Fleet, Leonard, FL (1994) "Close Circuit Television, the Adult Rape Victim and the Confrontation Clause: I See You, You See Me, They See Us, But You Aren't Here” (non-published thesis, available through the University of Nevada, Reno Library).

Guest, Denis, IL (2105) “An Examination of Judges in Israel and the United States” (non-published thesis, available through the University of Nevada, Reno Library).

