Message from the Dean

As we anticipate with excitement the start of a new semester, the college takes this opportunity to share some of the recent accomplishments of our faculty and students. I know that the coming academic year will see many more such notable achievements from CLA faculty and students.

Heather K. Hardy
Dean

English professor and Chair, Eric Rasmussen, named 2013 Foundation Professor

World-renowned Shakespeare and Renaissance literature scholar, Eric Rasmussen, was recognized at the Honor the Best ceremony for his outstanding research and teaching achievements.
Read more

University of Nevada, Reno students begin archaeological dig at Stewart Indian School

Sarah Cowie, assistant professor of anthropology, leads students on an archaeological dig at the historic Stewart Indian School located in Carson City.
Read more

ROTC cadet honored as one of the nation’s best

Christa Harrop, a senior majoring in psychology, was selected as a recipient of the George C. Marshall Leadership Award.
Read more
Art professor completes 460-mile bike ride in the desert

Chalking out 10,000 square miles of usable space for a solar farm Joseph DeLappe creates a symbolic statement to show the impact the Nevada sun and desert can have on our energy demands.

Read more

Psychology professor lands top 10 finish in 2013 Best Illusion of the Year Contest

For the third time, Gideon Caplovitz has been named a top ten finalist in the Best Illusion of the Year Contest, an international contest sponsored by The Neural Correlate Society.

Read more