Undergraduate and Graduate Nationally Competitive Fellowships
Fall 2016 deadlines

The Office of Undergraduate and Graduate Fellowships provides advice and assistance to University of Nevada, Reno undergraduates, graduate students, and alum interested in applying for the Fulbright U.S. Student Program and other nationally and internationally competitive scholarships such as the Rhodes, Marshall, Truman, Goldwater, and Udall. The Office is housed in the University Honors Program office in the Jot Travis Building, Room 11A.

The Office holds information sessions each semester open to everyone. For a full list of fellowships supported by the Office, see: http://www.unr.edu/honors/fellowships. If you plan to join us at any of the fall sessions, please reserve a place in your desired session(s) by going to Appointment Scheduler at http://www.unr.edu/honors/current-students/advising

Fulbright U.S. Student Program Information session: Wednesday, August 31, 2016, 3:00-4:30 pm, JCSU 320. The Fulbright provides grants for study/research projects or for English Teaching Assistantships in 150 countries around the world. Graduating seniors, graduate students, and students who are alum of the University of Nevada are eligible to apply.

Fulbright Writing Workshop #1: Friday, September 9, 2016, 3-5 p.m. in the Honors Program, Jot Travis Building, Room 11A. Any student planning to apply for a Fulbright student award (or other national fellowships) this fall is required to bring a draft of the Personal Statement and Proposed Program of Study to the workshop to share with faculty readers and other applicants.

Fulbright Writing Workshop #2: Friday, September 16, 2016, 3-5 in the Honors Program, Jot Travis Building, Room 11A. Students who attended the Fulbright Writing Workshop #1 must bring final revisions of the essays.

Fulbright campus deadline: Friday, September 23, 2016, by 3 pm. All completed applications must be submitted through the Embark online application system (Fulbright website) with letters of recommendation by this date to be considered for a campus interview. Campus interviews are required of all Fulbright applicants.

Fulbright campus interviews begin the week of Monday, September 26, 2016 in the Honors Program, Jot Travis Building, Room 11A. A faculty committee will complete a Fulbright campus evaluation for each Fulbright applicant who undergoes the interview.

Fulbright application resubmit: After the interview, each applicant will have access to his/her application for a short while. All applicants must resubmit through Embark their final application by Wednesday, October 5, 2016.
