Community Catalyst Intern

Reno Collective

Reno Collective is a co-working space that is home to over 120 members including startups, freelancers and remote workers. Our members are very tech savvy and work in industries such as marketing, design and software development. As a community we are changing the way people work and produce a series of classes in the areas of web development, freelancing and business.

About the Internship

This Community Catalyst internship with the Reno Collective is multidisciplinary and will allow you to develop some of your own initiatives; events, resources, and activities—all with the purpose of community building!

You will collaborate with Reno Collective and its community to develop and promote events, resources, and classes that further the Reno tech/startup ecosystem. This role is flexible and will be evolve to fit your goals and interests. We are looking for someone who is a self starter, likes working with people and is motivated by being around other smart and motivated individuals.

Qualifications

- Willingness to learn new things
- Enjoys working with people
- Effective communicator
- Self Starter
- Entrepreneurial

Internship Duties

- Work with Reno Collective to develop your own projects that further community building within the Reno Collective and the broader Reno tech/startup ecosystem
- Develop "Member Spotlights" by interviewing members of the Reno Collective community and create content that highlights their talents and work
- Work with RC to develop and launch small, actionable community initiatives
- Test those community initiatives to determine their effectiveness
- Work with Reno Collective to identify events, resources or classes that we might offer to our members and the public

$12/hour for 120 hours
Spring Semester 2017
Apply by November 1st, 2016 at www.unr.edu/career