RE: Ben Fry Memorial Scholarship

Dear Professors, Staff and Students:

Concrete Masonry Association of California and Nevada, a non-profit organization, is pleased to announce that we have established a scholarship for students who have successfully completed a cooperative work experience with one of CMACN’s Producer Member companies (found on the CMACN website at http://cmacn.org/producer-members.htm), and who will be continuing at their same university in fall 2017.

As an association of concrete masonry block manufacturers, CMACN’s mission is to strengthen the masonry industry in California and Nevada by providing a technical information resource on concrete masonry for design professionals, protect and advance the interests of concrete masonry industry, develop new and existing markets for concrete masonry products, and coordinate our members’ efforts in solving common problems within the masonry industry.

CMACN develops, monitors, and coordinates test programs, research projects and specification updates. We publish technical and educational data, and both receive and disseminate recommendations for improved product use.

To this end, we have established a scholarship program in order to promote the study of concrete masonry as a subject. Recipients of the Ben Fry Memorial Scholarship will receive $2,000 towards tuition to be paid directly to the University on behalf of the recipient. In addition, the student will receive a copy of our latest edition of “Design of Reinforced Masonry Structures,” which is the Association’s premier publication.

Requests for this scholarship should be submitted on the enclosed application with short answers to the multipart question, with at least one signed and sealed faculty recommendation, and a signed and sealed recommendation from your cooperative work experience supervisor from one of CMACN’s Producer Member companies (see the list of Producer Members and their locations at http://cmacn.org/producer-members.htm). Additionally, the scholarship recipient must be committed to continuing at their stated university in the fall 2017. This information should be postmarked no later than Monday, March 20, 2017.

The scholarship winner and the university contact person will be notified of the scholarship award.

Please be sure to call if you have additional questions with regard to this matter.
