WHY ARE ENDOWMENTS SO IMPORTANT?

An endowment refers to assets that are invested in perpetuity, unlike expendable funds which are typically used for immediate needs. The University’s endowment is not, as many may think, a single “pot” of money that can be used as the University wishes. Many separate endowed funds comprise the endowment, and each has its own stipulations about how the income may be used, as specified by the donor.

As the University’s endowment grows through prudent investment management and gains, the endowment will help to ensure the strength and stability of the University. Endowment income provides stability against downturns in the economy, budget cuts and other changes.

ENDOW A LEGACY

A gift to endow a faculty position makes a lasting contribution to strengthen the University. The gift will help recruit leading professors and secure a solid education for our students, who reap the benefits of such gifts.

A named chair or professorship goes on for as long as the University endures. It becomes a tradition unto itself, developing its character and reputation, not just for the donors, but for the faculty holders of the position.

New scholarship endowment continues a father’s legacy and love for music

The late Robert Fleming Carothers had a great love for music, even at an early age. He played piano and other instruments during his youth, was a member of the Phi Mu Alpha honorary music fraternity and received his degree in music in 1940 from Muskingum College in New Concord, Ohio. His career teaching music for Perrysville, Ohio, public schools was short lived when he returned to the family work with the Pennsylvania Railroad, but his passion for music never waned.

“My father took great joy in music and continued directing choruses, playing various instruments and singing with the church choir and other choirs in his community, including the Shriners,” says Robert’s son John Carothers, vice president of Development and Alumni Relations at the University of Nevada, Reno.

“He encouraged his four sons to become musicians, instilling his love of music by playing piano and singing with them. Even at the end of his life, with substantial hearing loss, his passion for music continued with the municipal band in Orlando, Florida.”

To honor his late father and continue his legacy of encouraging young musicians in their education, John has established the Robert Fleming Carothers Scholarship Endowment to assist undergraduate music students who demonstrate financial need. The first scholarship will be awarded in the 2015-16 school year.

Endowed scholarships can be created with a minimum gift of $10,000, contributed in full or built to the endowment level of $10,000 in one-to-five years. Once fully funded, the principal is invested and an award is made when $1,000 is available. The principal is untouched, so the endowment can last into perpetuity. Donors can specify their scholarship endowment purposes. The annual payout is approximately 4.5% or $1,25 for every $25,000 given. To learn more, please contact Melanie Perish, director of development, university scholarships, (775) 682-6544 or mperish@unr.edu.

To learn more about supporting the College of Liberal Arts, please contact Kristen Kennedy, development director, (775) 784-6873 or kristenk@unr.edu.
